

Fluid Flow of Nature

---

In nature, colours merge and flow in surfaces such as ice, rock or earth, forming sweeping and unpredictable movement of colour in shades of light and darkness. At CRONZ, we have taken that as inspiration and designed a carpet to reflect this seemingly uncontrollable movements in a predictable way.

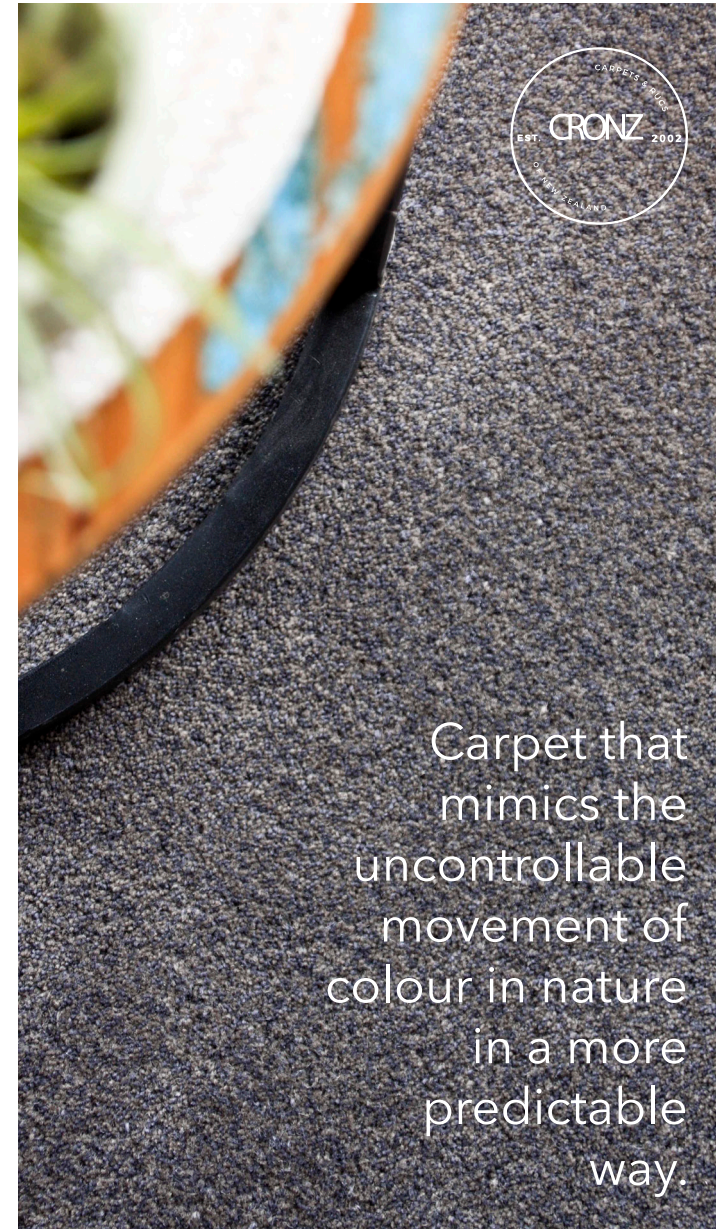

At CRONZ, we are proud to represent the beauty New Zealand has to offer on the floors of the world. We design and make all the carpets and rugs here in New Zealand, just up the road from where some of the most beautiful scenery provides the backdrop for the best wool in the world to be grown.

Abrash

Carpet that mimics the uncontrollable movement of colour in nature
in a more predictable way.

crafted in

New Zealand.

Striation of Colour

---

Abrash exhibits striation of colour as nature defines. By controlling the percentage of colour contribution, each carpet is one-of-a-kind and utterly customised.

---

Whether used in a high foot traffic area of a family house or resembling colour palette of a corporate environment, Abrash provides the solution to set the scene for unique style and comfort.

Bespoke & Luxurious

Our in-house design team have developed a design to distribute any colour in variety of shades and combinations, giving the effect of the movement that nature so effortlessly manages. With us, however, it is controlled to the most-minute detail. Select three tonal colours, or two tonal and one contrasting colour, to form a unique striated effect.

Abrash is made out of singles yarn (380/1 tex) of pure New Zealand wool, or can be combined with silk for sheen and elegance. No matter which fibre or combination of fibres is selected, Abrash is tufted and shorn to be high density, the highest quality custom carpet with a luxurious finish.
